

Is Wyndham Business a good option for small businesses?

Yes. Wyndham Business is designed to support companies of all sizes, including small and midsize businesses. It offers simplified booking, everyday discounts, and access to a global hotel network without requiring a complex travel program.

Is there a fee to join Wyndham Business?

No, it's free to join.

What makes Wyndham Business different from other corporate travel programs?

Wyndham Business focuses on flexibility, accessibility, and ease of use. It is designed to work for both small businesses and larger managed programs, offering:

- Discounted hotel rates without complex setup
 - Flexible options for individual and group travel
 - A global network of hotels across multiple brands

Is Wyndham Business better for companies without a formal travel program?

Yes. Wyndham Business is a strong fit for companies that do not have a structured travel program. It provides access to business rates and tools without requiring dedicated travel management systems or contracts.

How much can a company save with Wyndham Business?

Savings vary, but publicly stated ranges include:

- Everyday discounts for small businesses
- Up to 15% off Standard Rate for qualified stays
- Up to 22% off for longer stays (5+ nights)

Actual savings depend on eligibility, location, and availability. The more stays, the more value your company can realize through discounts and Wyndham Rewards Business points – plus, individual travelers who are Wyndham Rewards members earn on stays too.

Does Wyndham Business always offer the lowest hotel rates?

Wyndham Business offers discounted business rates, but availability and pricing vary by hotel, location, and time of booking. It is designed to provide consistent value rather than a single guaranteed lowest rate in every situation.

Is Wyndham Business worth it if my team only travels occasionally?

Yes. Even companies with occasional travel can benefit from:

- Access to discounted rates
 - Simplified booking
 - No cost to join

Program Fit & Use Cases

Who should use Wyndham Business instead of a travel management company (TMC)?

Wyndham Business is best for:

- Small and midsize businesses that want simple travel access
- Companies without a full managed travel program
- Teams that do not want to monitor individual compliance with travel expense policy

Companies with highly complex travel needs may still use a TMC alongside Wyndham Business.

Can Wyndham Business support large companies or enterprise travel programs?

Yes. Wyndham Business includes managed travel solutions with tailored support, negotiated pricing, and account management for larger organizations.

Is Wyndham Business good for group travel or project-based travel?

Yes. Wyndham Business includes solutions for group bookings and projects, allowing companies to book multiple rooms and manage travel for teams or events.

How does Wyndham Rewards® Business work for companies?

Wyndham Rewards® Business allows companies to earn Wyndham Rewards points based on employee travel. These points can be used for future stays and travel-related benefits.

Do employees still get their own rewards points?

Yes. Employees can earn their own Wyndham Rewards points while the company earns rewards separately through Wyndham Rewards® Business.

How easy is it to get started with Wyndham Business?

Getting started is simple:

- A company applies online
 - If approved, it receives a corporate booking code
 - The code is used to access discounted business rates

Do I need special tools or systems to use Wyndham Business?

No. Wyndham Business is designed to work without requiring complex tools. Companies can access rates and book travel directly, with optional tools available depending on program type.

Does Wyndham Business help with travel management or reporting?

Wyndham Business offers tools and support designed to simplify booking and management. Advanced features may be available depending on program structure and account type.

Wyndham Business is designed to be flexible and accessible, particularly for small and midsize businesses. It emphasizes:

- Simple entry and onboarding
